EMPOWERING MINDS THROUGH EMBRACING LIBERATION IN EDUCATION

Introducing BSN Press - Your Beacon for all things decolonization. Join the Black Student's Network in amplifying diverse voices through spotlighting stories and sparking conversations that matter. We kick off this inaugural edition, shedding light on the educational opportunities offered to the Black community within the university, as well as the upcoming internal workshops and events, liberating change this month. Ensuring that all minds are effectively empowered, let's navigate the path of decolonizing the curricula together. Your monthly dose of community starts here.

SUPPORTING ACS X GALENICALS BLOOD DRIVE FOR SICKLE CELL

The Black Student's Network are proud to support the ACS & Bristol Med society's vital blood drive for sickle cell. Being a part of this notion, is an opportunity to make a tangible impact on the lives of those battling this genetic disorder. Participants will be informed about the disease in greater detail as well as the procedure to donate blood at this information evening. So if interested, do be sure to attend. Help us foster a community that effectively addresses health disparities and improves the quality of life for those affected by this illness.

The provisional date for the Blood drive is set to happen during the first week of December (1st - 8th) at the Bristol Blood Donor Centre. Be sure to keep in touch for updates.

BRISTOL INSTITUTE FOR LEARNING - SWAY HALFWAY COURSES

Discover the BILT faculty-based, half-hour workshop courses, created using Microsoft Sway. Gain insights into the innovative strategies employed across each of the academic disciplines to create a curriculum that reflects the diversity in each student experience. Each presentation provides inclusive resources that tackle the legacies of colonialism on the curriculum and explore how it can be effectively dismantled.

OPPORTUNITIES & SPONSORSHIPS

As we continue our journey towards fostering a diverse and inclusive community, the Black Student's Network is pleased to share a list of both internal and external sponsorships and schemes that we are actively supporting.
